Pet Butler Wins Award for Its Impressive Growth, Financial Performance

DALLAS, Texas, May 22, 2006 – Pet Butler, the nation's leading pet waste cleanup service, has been recognized as the 10th fastest growing private company in Collin County, Texas, according to this year's Comerica Collin 60 rankings. The company grew 211 percent from 2002 through 2005, with gross revenue exceeding $840,000 in its most recent fiscal year.

The Comerica Collin 60 annually recognizes the 60 fastest-growing companies in the county. Companies are ranked by the percentage of growth between 2002 and 2005. Businesses had to have been operating since 2001, be privately owned, and have top-line sales in 2002 between $250,000 and $20 million.

Pet Butler proudly bills itself as “#1 in the ‘#2’ business.” The company charges a small per-visit fee for its technicians to collect dog and cat waste, carry it away, and dispose of it properly. Whether in yards or in public spaces, accumulated domestic animal waste can ruin lawns and present a significant source of water pollution.

Pet Butler has grown from a one-person enterprise to its current 15 full-time employees and 40 franchises from coast-to-coast. The company is on target for $2.5 million in revenue in 2006.

“This award recognizes the hard work and dedication of our employees and new franchise partners,” said Matt “Red” Boswell, president and founder of Pet Butler. “We’ve got a great team here who are committed to serving our clients and making the name Pet Butler: America’s Pet Waste Cleanup Service, a household name across the country.”

The top 60 fastest-growing companies in Collin County were recognized at an awards luncheon, attended by more than 500 business professionals. Collin County is the 14th fastest growing county in the nation and is home to more than 13,000 businesses. Ninety-seven percent of the businesses in Collin County have fewer than 100 employees. The annual award program is sponsored by Comerica Bank.
